

New BC Eco-Resort Boasts Yurts at The GAK

Thu Apr 23, 2009 8:01am EDT

Email | Print | Share | Reprints | Single Page

[-] Text [+]

VANCOUVER, April 23 /PRNewswire/ - Sophistication in Nature is how Scott Dunlop proudly describes his British Columbia eco-resort. "After three years of building the resort, we are proud to say The GAK Resort at Treasure Mountain, an eco destination will be open for business this summer," notes Dunlop.

The resort is located in southwestern British Columbia, only 2.5 hours from the beautiful city of Vancouver. The resort sits on 180 acres of land in an exclusive pristine wilderness valley nestled between 5 impressive mountain peaks. The GAK's residents include wildlife including deer, elk, owls and bald eagles who will be welcoming their first guests this June.

The resort's accommodations are comprised of Canadian made, modern and spacious yurts. The GAK is an enclave of 15 spacious yurts, a dining and gathering yurt, and dozens of lounge areas. The Yurts which can accommodate up to 5 guests each are entirely off-grid, powered by solar technology and utilize composting toilets and collect rainwater for its showers. Guest yurts feature large skylights which produce generous amounts of natural light as well as spectacular views of the stars at night. From their own private deck, guest can relax in a hammock, and drink in the amazing views of the 7000' peaks.

Each element of the GAK was specifically designed to conserve energy and maximize sustainability. The amenities, lighting, water usage and reusable materials contribute to The GAK's commitment to environmental sustainability and maintaining harmony with the natural surroundings.

Summer activities include alpine hiking, yoga, fly fishing, photography, wildlife viewing and simply connecting with nature. The area is rugged enough for the most adventurous, yet suitable for the whole family. "The challenge I encounter is that I am always wanting to take photos and can't put my camera down; the area is a paradise for a photographer," notes GAK tour guide, Daniel Del Rio.

Dedicated to local foods and products, each meal at the GAK will be prepared from fresh ingredients that are locally produced and organically grown, whenever possible.

Each aspect of the GAK has been created to limit carbon footprint while maximizing guest's enjoyment in a refined luxurious natural setting.

For more information, please visit www.TheGAK.com

/NOTE TO PHOTO EDITORS: A photo accompanying this release is available on the CNW Photo Network and archived at <http://photos.newswire.ca>.

Additional archived images are also available on the CNW Photo Archive website at <http://photos.newswire.ca>. Images are free to accredited members of the media/

SOURCE GAK Resort

Scott Dunlop, Tel: (604) 329-9856, Email: scott@thegak.com

© Thomson Reuters 2009 All rights reserved

 SHARE:  Del.icio.us  Digg  Mixx  Yahoo!  Facebook  LinkedIn

ALSO ON REUTERS

Full Coverage: The latest swine flu headlines

Sorry Mom! Recession makes for a cheap Mother's Day

Blog: Wrong blogs are better than bad journalism

EDITOR'S CHOICE

 Slideshow

A selection of our best photos from the past 24 hours. Slideshow

MOST POPULAR ON REUTERS

 Articles Video

1. Obama vows tougher overseas tax policies |  Video
2. WHO head indicates full flu pandemic to be declared |
3. Buffett attacks bank tests, eyes flu pandemic
4. Saudi Arabia clamps down on unlicensed female gyms
5. More get flu across U.S., 286 cases in 36 states
6. Group seeks to block Chrysler/Fiat as Opel heats up |
7. Sales and construction data lift hopes for U.S. housing |
8. UPDATE 4-Obama vows tougher overseas tax policies
9. Global companies fear Obama's new tax